

DRIVEN OFF BY GUN MEN.

Another Settler in Flight from Alder and Others in Terror.

(A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.)

UKIAH (Cal.) Sept. 27.—

Struggles between settlers and the L. E. White Lumber Company for the possession of rich timberlands along Alder Creek reached a crisis again today when M. E. Warren, a settler, was driven off a claim. Warren's cabin was rased and he was warned not to come back. The settlers, who already have petitioned the Secretary of the Interior, admit they await with fear the next move of gun men. Efforts to persuade women to leave the clearings and let their husbands fight it out alone have proved futile. They will not go. Officials of the lumber company maintain that the disputed land belongs to them and that they have paid for all of it from one to three times.

Long before the opening, hour the brokers' offices were filled with customers, many of whom had not been in the financial district for months. The attendance on the floor of the stock exchange was the largest in months. Veteran floor traders said they never had witnessed such scenes on the floor.

TERRIFIC CRUSH.

Brokers began, long before the gong sounded, to gather round the United States Steel post, ready to execute the buying orders which had been pouring in as a result of the steel corporation's statement. As the hour for the opening of trading drew near, the crowd became more and more dense.

Train of Peoria Whisky Sent to New York for Water Shipment to San Francisco.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PEORIA (Ill.) Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A train-load of whisky consigned by the Clark Brothers Distilling Company, of this city, to San Francisco firm, is leaving tomorrow for New York City. There it will be transferred to a steamer to sail around Cape Horn in South America and up the Pacific Coast to its destination. The distance by rail and water is approximately 18,000 miles. The distance by rail from Peoria direct to San Francisco is about 2000 miles. The shippers figure an enormous saving in freight rates by making the tremendous rail and water haul instead of shipping direct by rail overland to the Western Coast. This is the third consignment of this character which has been sent by this route out of Peoria within the last sixty days, and is said to be a beginning of the vast business which will ultimately go through the Panama Canal within the next three years.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHIASSO (Switzerland) Sept. 27.—(On the Italian Frontier.)—Today's anti-militarist demonstrations have assumed a grave character in the province of Ravenna, and Forlì, Italy, where the socialist and Republican elements predominate.

A mob, after stopping the trains which were transporting troops being moved in connection with threatened trouble with Turkey over Tripoli, stoned the cavalry. The rioters used street cars to form barricades.

At Vigevano, province of Pavia, the manifestants paraded, led by a woman, and singing anarchistic songs. They stoned the carabinieri who attempted to head them off, wounding some of the soldiers. A judge who sought to interfere got his ears boxed. The revolutionary socialists, backed by the anarchists, are attempting to provoke anti-military disorders and have compelled the government to make great display of force to check their plans.

The Italian newspapers failed to publish, lacking news because of the censorship, and this led to alarming reports.

The extremists among the agitators, hunted by the police, carabinieri and soldiers and being prevented from holding public meetings, had recourse to secret gatherings where there were inflammatory harangues. Some of these speakers went so far as to glorify regicide and to say that the expedition to Tripoli was prepared entirely in the interest of the dynasty and against the welfare of the proletariat.

At a meeting at Rome, Mary Bygier, the socialist, ended a storm of invectives by crying "Long live Russia" (the murder of King Humbert).

At Rome, Milan and Florence there were insignificant disorders in the streets. The stone throwers were dispersed by police and soldiers. About 1000 arrests have been made throughout Italy.

All the reservists answered the call. The trains used to transport them were stopped at several stations by mobs. The women and children were particularly desperate, and in instances threw themselves across the railway tracks in front of the trains, daring the engineers to run over them.

Ultimatum Forwarded to Julius Kruttschnitt, Head of Harriman System, Remains Unanswered—Time Limit Set by Unions Expires at Noon Today—Kline, of Machinists, Refuses to Discuss Probable Action.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—No answer was received today from Vice-President Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific railroad by James W. Kline, president of the Blacksmiths' and Helpers' International Union, in reply to its demand for reopening of negotiations with the Federation of Railway Employees.

The final time limit set in the ultimatum to Kruttschnitt will expire tomorrow noon. If by then no action has been taken by the railroad, the international unions composing the federation plan to hold another conference and decide upon their future course.

The message to Mr. Kruttschnitt apparently left the union officials the alternative of withdrawing their demands for recognition of the federation or calling a strike. The failure of the machinists' organization to sanction the latter course, union officials have explained, previously caused them to hesitate to send out the strike orders to employees of the Southern Pacific and Illinois Central.

Now that the international officials have the backing of the five crafts unions in the federation of the Southern Pacific employees and of the nine crafts composing that of the Illinois Central employees, they expect they Rockets and Bombs Stored in Chapel of Jesus Catch Stray Sparks.

Panic Follows, Injured Sent Nearer Death by Feet of Trampling Mob.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

GUADALAJARA (Mex.) Sept. 27.—A terrible explosion of rockets and bombs in a crowded church here today resulting in the death of four persons and serious injury to fifteen others, cast a shadowy gloom over the merry-making attending the coming of Madero in this city. Of the wounded many were so seriously burned or trampled in the panic which followed the explosion that they may die.

Fifty rockets and 600 bombs had been stored in the Chapel of Jesus for use in celebrating the arrival of the sacred image of the Virgin of Zapopan, which is carried from church to church and believed to have power to effect miraculous cures. The church was crowded.

The explosives piled at the foot of the stairs leading to the tower are thought to have been ignited by the careless dropping of a lighted cigarette. Those nearest were hurled in all directions.

The building was quickly filled with smoke, which blinded the struggling and frantic occupants, who fought one another in their effort to escape. One man was found dead and three boys, one a and two 10 years old, so frightfully burned and mangled that they died soon after being carried from the building.

FULQUE RIOT IN NACO.

Drunkard Soldiers Shoot Up the Town, But National Troops from Cananea Quell Them.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NACO (Ariz.) Sept. 27.—Naco, Sonora, just across the international boundary line, was the scene of a wild drunken riot today, which was quelled only when Mexican national troops arrived from Cananea on request from the Naco authorities.

The Mexican garrison at Naco became involved in a drunken brawl and started to parade the streets, insulting defiance to all civil authorities, and the latter were powerless to cope with the situation. About a hundred and fifty shots were fired by the rioters, none of which, however, found human lodgment.

When the detachment from Cananea arrived order was quickly restored, the rioters going to their barracks and promising not to cause further trouble. It seems that the whole affair was the sequel to a brawl of the night before.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The suit for absolute divorce, brought by Walter Lippard Snydam, Jr., the young Blue Point (L. I.) millionaire, against his runaway wife, Louise Lawrence Snydam, was tried before Justice Clark in the Brooklyn Superior Court today, in a few minutes more than a half-hour.

At the conclusion of the taking of testimony, the court signified that he would grant an interlocutory decree after he had inspected the papers in the case and ascertained himself that they were regular. The decree will become final in ninety days.

Two witnesses for the husband, both employees in the Snydam household, testified.

Mrs. Snydam left the home of her millionaire husband, September 8, and Noble took an apartment in West Twelfth street. Noble is 25 years old. Mrs. Snydam is 30, the same age as her husband.

"I had no idea that my wife was unhappy until a short time ago," said Mr. Snydam. "I spoke to her about Noble a few days before she went away. She confessed that she enjoyed his society. I know now that my troubles are all due to Mrs. Snydam's mixing up too enthusiastically in the doings of the younger set here. She came to care so much for dancing, society and for Noble, who stood for that sort of thing, that she would run away with him rather than give them all up."

The broken plate weighed thirty-seven tons, and had been hurled 225 yards. The Republic was so damaged that she will be out of commission for months while repairs are being made.

If Turkey does not reply to the ultimatum Italy is prepared to send troops and formally occupy Tripoli. Turkey has declared she will look on this action as a crime, and will resist the invasion with every resource. Foreign powers are being the country, fearing the fear that fanatic Mohammedans are planning a general massacre of Christians.

With an Italian war ship on Tripoli's coast and an Italian ultimatum in the hands of the British in Constantinople, demands for Italy the recognized right to establish a protectorate in the African territory under dispute, the crisis now reached its most acute stage. Six thousand soldiers were landed on Italian transports at Palermo today, but no stringent is the ship being exercised by the Italian government that it is difficult to say whether or not the transports will sail. ROCKEFELLER POURS OIL UPON MATRIMONIAL SEAS

Oil Magnate Reported Secretly Summoned to Home of Daughter, Mrs. Harold McCormick, to Act as Peacemaker in Family Row—Estrangement Widening Between Chicago Couple, Says Rumor.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Society people are asking each other today if it is true that John D. Rockefeller slipped quietly away from his home in Cleveland and visited his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. McCormick.

It was reported at Lake Forest, where the McCormicks maintain a country residence that the Standard Oil magnate visited his son-in-law there surreptitiously within the last few days after taking extraordinary precautions to keep his identity and the facts concerning his visit secret.

Before Mr. Rockefeller's arrival, it was ascertained, all the servants at the McCormick summer home had been instructed to preserve secrecy regarding his visit under penalty of instant dismissal. One of the servants, however, is said to have let the information slip out inadvertently, and the news, spreading rapidly in society circles, gave rise to all sorts of rumors and conjectures.

PEZZLING QUESTIONS.

If Mr. Rockefeller visited Chicago, what was the object of his visit? Why was he so careful to keep his identity secret? Why did he not visit his daughter at her town house, where she is known to have been staying during the last few weeks?

These were some of the questions asked and in connection with them was recalled Mrs. McCormick's action less than a month ago when she hastily recalled invitations to a dinner dance at her summer home and moved to her town house at No. 1000 Lake Shore drive.

At that time Mrs. McCormick stated that she supposed within a day or two going to Cleveland to visit her parents. She changed her mind, however, and remained in the town house. Meanwhile, her husband resided at the summer home in Lake Forest during much of the time, at least. Mr. McCormick gave as the reason for his wife having recalled her dinner dance invitations that "she changed her mind."

No other reason was made public though it was stated emphatically that Mrs. McCormick was not ill.

RAISE FUND FOR MISS CLEMENS.

Woman's Relative, Fleeced, May Enter University.

Persons Interested in Victim of Paroled Convict.

Look Who Got Her Cash Back in Prison.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Mildred Clemens, the Portland girl who was fleeced by a paroled convict in Berkeley, Cal., of $248, every cent she had saved to pay her way through the University of California, may yet continue her college work.

Her mother, Mrs. A. J. Henshaw, mother of Miss Clemens, lives at No. 1245 Minnesota street. Miss Clemens is a distant relative of Mark Twain. Her father, William Clemens, was a second cousin of the famous humorist.

She has not heard from Mildred, Mrs. Henshaw, "but have sent a telegram informing her that she will be made to obtain money to continue at school. The stolen represents about a year's work on the part of Mildred, who was graduated from High School years ago, and soon after realized the necessity of continuing her education."

GOOD BUSINESS HEAD.

She worked in various places and made money out of her misery. She is a good business head and a year after her graduation from the school, she went to the West, where she became a circulation manager of a newspaper.

About a month ago, I received a letter in which she said she had been fleeced of her money and was extremely happy.

Mrs. Henshaw said she had received many calls from friends of Mildred, and several of them had agreed to help in raising a fund to enable her to continue her studies.

A convict who fleeced Miss Clemens is Frederick Signor, former of the University, believed Signor's stolen representations as to his ability, and his recent arrest and return to the penitentiary for forgery.

Miss Clemens met Signor in Mrs. Henshaw's boarding-house.

Who others who were induced by his bearing and by the disarming appearance and honest-looking connections. He told her of his investment opportunities and to being rewarded.

She learned she had $250 in the bank and promised her a $150 bonus would lend it to him for three months.

He gave her an order on the Bank of San Francisco, which later found was worthless. Just at that time Signor was rearrested and sent back to the penitentiary for forgery.

Signor was sentenced by Judge J. W. O'Connell to serve a seven-year term in 1909 for forgery of the name of James A. Murray, a capitalist, who for $400,000 in the sale of which Signor arranged with him.

The transaction disclosed the forgery of Murray's name, power of attorney that Signor had.

Signor was later discovered "finner" per Murray before a justice of the peace in Los Angeles. Attempts to have Signor placed on probation were based on a plea that he was a drug fiend. He was paroled months ago and shortly returned to his old haunts.

O'Connell was forced to go from the lodging-house to the police to register his experience with no other clothes than a blanket worn Indian style, which he took from a bed in place. After going into the place, he bought a pitcher of wine for the rymakers and was then "franked" in money.

Then one of the beggars expressed a liking for his hat, at once O'Connell grabbed it from him. All his other clothing went the same way. Then the "forty thieves" hurried exits.

Arrested for Striking Woman on Street, G. H. Barrett Attacks Newspaper Artist Who Seeks Snap Shot—Is Caught by Camera in Act of Swinging on Photographer.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—G. H. Barrett, a prominent portrait painter, who last week jumped from the frying-pan into the fire when he attacked a newspaper photographer and was caught by another photographer in the act, today gave up his efforts to suppress the picture and went into retirement.

Barrett was arrested for striking a woman, but was released after his appearance in court. He gave his name when arrested as "E. H. Smith."

To avoid publicity, his identity became known, however, and the photographer snapped him when he left the police court. He attacked one of them and was worsted. Then he visited every newspaper office and tried to suppress the pictures. Failing in that, for the past week he has been trying to get the plates from the photographers, offering fancy prices.

Yesterday he announced that he was going to sue. Today he took it all back, and said that he was going into retirement.

"I don't care what they do with their pictures," he said, "but I'll see to it that they don't get any more of me."

Republicans of New Mexico Will Probably Select Bursum in Their Convention Today.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

LAS VEGAS (N. M.) Sept. 27.—With the gubernatorial nomination conceded to H. O. Bursum of Socorro, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, the first Republican state convention of New Mexico will convene here tomorrow. Nathan Jaffe, Territorial Secretary, and former Territorial Gov. Miguel Otero, will contest the nomination with Bursum, but his strongest opponent, Bernardino Romero of Las Vegas, withdrew from the race tonight.

Former Gov. George Curry is expected to secure the nomination for Congress.

Three hundred and three delegates, many of whom are native born Mexicans, will make up the convention. The Democratic convention will be held a week later.

ULTIMATUM TO TURKEY.

Italy, may take a hand in the dilemma, to bring about an adjustment in hope of thwarting Italy's plan for actual control over Tripoli.

Italy has her entire sea-fighting force mobilized into four fleets; one to protect her own shores, another to prevent the transportation of Turkish supplies and reinforcements into Tripoli, a third, to support the investment of Tripoli, and the fourth fleet to be reserve force to guard the Italian coast line.

TURKISH MINISTERS HOLD A CONCLAVE.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Turkish ministers were in conclave today over the ultimatum of Italy. It was unofficially reported the Turkish government has decided to reject in toto Italy's claims for a protectorate over Tripoli. Turkey is preparing for war and an appropriation of $500,000 has been voted for the purchase of small arms.

While the indications are the Turkish government will maintain a firm attitude, it is saving itself of every means to save time, while every European power which might have either a direct or indirect interest in Tripoli, aside from Italy, is being sought to use its influence against Italian domination over Tripoli territory.

The Cabinet also considered the note headed the Foreign Minister by the Italian Charge d'Affaires, the communication called the attention of the Porte to the alleged attempts of Turkish agents to incite the Arabs of Tripoli against Italians and the consequent disquietude in the Italian colony in that province. The note also suggested Turkey abandon the dispatch of munitions of war to Tripoli, as such a course if persisted in might lead to regrettable incidents.

ITALIAN DEFEAT SCENTED IN BRITAIN.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Though hope has not been abandoned that Italy's aggression upon Tripoli may be prevented, there is nothing tangible in sight to support it.

If Turkey has 30,000 men in Tripoli great doubt is expressed here respecting Italy's capacity to capture the province because the Arab population, who are all armed, are sworn to support the Turks.

Italy's grievous failure in Abyssinia has not been forgotten, and the Turks are still esteemed the best soldiers in Europe. The Turkish government is spending every available penny on the army, which was never so well equipped or officered.

It is feared here Italy's action may open up the whole eastern question, as the Turks vow they will stagger humanity if Europe allows this robbery to be perpetrated.

TURKS LOSE FAITH IN EUROPEAN FRIENDS.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—The newspapers suggest that all Ottoman subjects refuse to pay their debts to Italians in the event of an Italian occupation of Tripoli.

The Tripoli deputies held a meeting here yesterday and discussed the situation. The authorities have prohibited a public meeting of protest against the threatening attitude of Italy, arranged at St. Paul.

The Tannin's leading article today says:

"The Tripolitan question brings on the table the whole question of the relations between Christianity and Islam. The Turks have trespassed on nobody's rights, yet Italy is preparing to occupy Turkish territory on the pretext that Germany and France have taken away the independence of Morocco."

"Such conduct is in violation of the principles of international law, humanity and civilization. It is evident that there is no justice in Europe. Treaties are merely instruments of deception, which are destroyed when an advantage is to be gained thereby."

Care of the Hair In Cold Weather.

(From the Montreal Gazette.)

"It seems that their English-speaking sisters could profitably follow the methods of the French women in Canada for caring for the hair. It is unnecessary to expose one's self to catching cold by washing the head—which is considered a mistaken method at best, for moisture fades the hair and makes it coarse and brittle."

"French women dry shampoo the hair once or twice a week. Mix four ounces of amoniac with a half pound of corn meal, either white or yellow, and you will have a perfect shampoo powder, delicately perfumed. Sprinkle a tablespoonful upon the head and brush the powder thoroughly through the hair."

"Corn meal removes dust, oil and dandruff. Amoniac makes the hair grow long, fine and silky. After a dry shampoo of this mixture, the hair is beautifully bright, fluffy and lustreous."

The Anglo-Maltese colony of Tripoli has petitioned the Governor of Malta for protection. Telegrams from Tripoli say great uneasiness exists among the British subjects. They have raised the Union Jack over their houses.

ITALIAN DEMANDS JUSTIFIED BY EMBASSY.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The Italian Embassy here today authorized the declaration that Italy seeks satisfaction from Turkey for a series of recent incidents. Among these "incidents" are the arbitrary arrest of Italian subjects at Constantinople and their imprisonment, despite all the Italian government's remonstrances; the seizure of an Ottoman girl from her parents by an Ottoman, and the refusal of the authorities at Constantinople to compel her release and finally the insecurity of Italians in Tripoli. Italy, the Embassy sets forth, demands satisfaction for these affronts and guarantees for the future.

An inquiry was asked as to whether Germany would make a friendly intervention. It was answered that a definite reply to that question was not easy. Italy, it was said, was able to treat alone with Turkey and did not solicit assistance from any other power, even that of her good ally.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A news dispatch from Paris today says that Italy has sent an ultimatum to Turkey, saying that the latter must agree to an Italian occupation of Tripoli and to the evacuation of the province by tomorrow. Italy will immediately proceed with the threatened occupation.

A letter from Tripoli dated September 31, says:

"On the day Italian newspapers intimating the Italians contemplate an expedition to occupy Tripoli, we received here, every cafe and theater, all the shops and stores were instantly closed, and word was passed immediately to the Arabs throughout the town to meet in the great mosque to decide what they should do."

"They agreed that they would resist the Italian landing in the last resort, and if they had to yield, they would go to the British Consulate and seek British protection."

ITALIAN DEMANDS JUSTIFIED BY EMBASSY.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The Italian Embassy here today authorized the declaration that Italy seeks satisfaction from Turkey for a series of recent incidents. Among these "incidents" are the arbitrary arrest of Italian subjects at Constantinople and their imprisonment, despite all the Italian government's remonstrances; the seizure of an Ottoman girl from her parents by an Ottoman, and the refusal of the authorities at Constantinople to compel her release and finally the insecurity of Italians in Tripoli. Italy, the Embassy sets forth, demands satisfaction for these affronts and guarantees for the future.

An inquiry was asked as to whether Germany would make a friendly intervention. It was answered that a definite reply to that question was not easy. Italy, it was said, was able to treat alone with Turkey and did not solicit assistance from any other power, even that of her good ally.

PARIS INFORMED OF AN ULTIMATUM.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A news dispatch from Paris today says that Italy has sent an ultimatum to Turkey, saying that the latter must agree to an Italian occupation of Tripoli and to the evacuation of the province by tomorrow. Italy will immediately proceed with the threatened occupation.

A letter from Tripoli dated September 31, says:

"On the day Italian newspapers intimating the Italians contemplate an expedition to occupy Tripoli, we received here, every cafe and theater, all the shops and stores were instantly closed, and word was passed immediately to the Arabs throughout the town to meet in the great mosque to decide what they should do."

"They agreed that they would resist the Italian landing in the last resort, and if they had to yield, they would go to the British Consulate and seek British protection."

EUROPEANS IN DREAD OF MOSLIM'S HATE.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

TRIPOLI, Sept. 27.—The uneasiness of European residents here increases through apprehensions of native demonstrations.

A French steamer, sailing yesterday, took aboard a European for Tunis, but was compelled to refuse others who sought passage because of the lack of accommodations.

PRIEST'S SKULL FRACTURED.
Falls Down the Stairs He Was Descending to His Dinner and Is Fatally Injured.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
GRASS VALLEY, Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rev. Father C. M. Lynch, one of the ablest and oldest priests in the West, who for several decades has been in charge of St. Patrick's Church, in this city, fell head down a flight of stairs in his home last evening and was fatally injured. Father Lynch, who had been attending the annual retreat of priests in the Sacramento diocese, was descending the stairs to his dinner when he lost his footing and pitched headlong down the staircase, landing on his head. He is still unconscious and suffering from a fractured skull. Telegrams were sent out this morning to priests throughout the State that death may occur at any moment.

State Printer Refuses to Answer Questions in Text Book Case, and Board Will Seek to Have Him Punished for Contempt—Others Summoned Before Body Follow Same Tactics—Shannon Reads Statement.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that the committee appointed by the State to investigate the cost of school text books had no jurisdiction to probe into the management of his office, and was doing so for political effect, State Printer W. W. Shannon at today's continued hearing of the inquiry held in the Ferry building, declined to answer any of the questions put by members of the committee or by the special attorney of that body.

After much wrangling it was decided to let the statement of Shannon go into the record without reading. This statement was a long attack on the authority of the committee, which contended that that body had no power to carry on the investigation.

When Shannon declared positively that he would not answer any questions, the committee adopted a resolution declaring "that W. W. Shannon, by his refusal to answer certain questions this day propounded to him by this committee, relating to the cost of text-books used in the public schools of the State, and the elements entering into such cost, and each of which questions he was directed to answer by the committee and its chairman, is hereby adjudged to be in contempt of this committee and of the Senate of the State of California, and that such proceedings be hereafter taken as may be necessary and proper in the premises to punish said witness, W. W. Shannon, for such contempt."

WITNESSES WON'T TALK.
Shannon then withdrew from the board-room, and George D. Graham, a printing ink manufacturer, who appeared at Tuesday's hearing, and who had been ordered to report again with data regarding the firms to which he had sold ink of the same quality and at the same price as that supplied to the witness stand, but he evaded all questions and was finally excused.

Henderson Zellerbach, president and general manager of the Zellerbach Paper Company, on advice of his counsel, refused to give any details regarding the paper furnished the State for text-book purposes.

Other witnesses took the same course and the inquiry was barren of results. Other contempt charges are likely.

Branching Out.
UNCLE SAM BUYS RISDON IRON WORKS IN NORTH.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
VALLEJO (Cal.) Sept. 27.—Word was received today at the Mare Island Navy Yard that the equipment and machinery of the Risdon Iron Works of San Francisco had been purchased by the government. It is intended to begin immediately the transferring of the machinery of the Risdon plant to Mare Island.

HISTORY OF PLANT.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The Risdon Iron Works is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation. The purchase of the plant from the Risdon company was consummated last spring and became public in April. The property as purchased included the plant, a half mile water front adjoining the Hunters' dry dock of the Union Iron Works and a large piece of property surrounding the plant, known as Irish Hill. The purchase price as announced was $2,250,000.

Following the purchase, representatives of the steel company announced that the intention of the company to enlarge and remodel the plant on the same lines as the plant at Gary, Ind.

They declared that the plant would be supplied with Pennsylvania pig iron for a time, but that it was their ultimate intention to treat at the Risdon works the immense tonnage of iron ore controlled by the company around Hankow, China.

The Risdon plant was established early in the '80s by Lewis Coffey and John Risdon, two boiler-makers from New York. The plant grew rapidly and for a time manufactured a large amount of marine machinery, employing 1500 men. Later, however, the business declined and for some time but few men have been employed.

The removal of the plant to Mare Island is taken to mean here that the army transport repair contracts and other government work which has been a source of profitable revenue to the Union Iron Works and other local firms, will be transferred to the plant operated by the Navy Department at Mare Island.

ENDS AT ONCE ALL STOMACH DISTRESS
A Little Diapiesin Cures Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia in Five Minutes.

If you had some Diapiesin handy and would take a little now your stomach distress or indigestion would vanish in five minutes and you would feel fine.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Paper's Diapiesin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nau sea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Paper's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Paper's Diapiesin contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disturbance.

WHOLE FAMILY MISSING.
Utah Folk Buy a Farm in Oregon, But They Never Reach There to Enjoy It.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
AURORA (Or.) Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fred Allington of Salt Lake City is here trying to get information about Joseph Swanner, his brother-in-law. Swanner last year purchased a large farm near Needy and left his home in Utah with his family for this place, traveling by wagon, but of him no definite news has been since heard.

Allington traced the family as far as Emmett, Idaho. There all trace was lost. He was informed, however, that the charred and burned remains of several bodies, wagons, etc., had been found in one of the burned districts of Wardner, but could not verify the report. The story seemed so improbable to him that Allington could not credit it, and came here, where he found the land purchased by Swanner unoccupied and the taxes unpaid. So he has redirected his attention to the Idaho clue.

No one here knows of the ill-fated family, and it is believed they never arrived here. The missing man was a prosperous farmer, and the farm which he bought here is valuable.

SOME WOMEN WORRYING.
District Attorney Has Their Names As Patrons of Stockton Sanatorium of Mrs. "Dr." Knight.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
STOCKTON (Cal.) Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Probably nothing has created so much talk and worry among rich folks in Stockton, as the arrest of Mrs. "Dr." B. E. Knight, who is detained in jail on two charges of performing operations forbidden by law. A book in the hands of District Attorney Folts gives the names of over 150 women who have taken advantage of her sanatorium.

Some of them have gone so far as to employ attorneys to assist them, but the District Attorney declares that it will be useless for them to make any move along that line as he proposes to use sufficient evidence to convict the woman and while not all of those implicated may be called he will select the witnesses.

No further effort has been made to release Mrs. Knight. Her bail is $2000.

Boston Society Maid Detained by Customs Men in Hongkong Wins a Husband in San Francisco.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A romance which began in Hongkong three years ago culminated yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Argonaut Hotel in the wedding of W. W. Howard, of the government service in Hongkong, and Miss Minnie Young, a society girl of Boston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. P. Turner and was witnessed by only a few friends of the bride.

The couple met for the first time under odd circumstances. When Miss Young arrived in Hongkong on a tour of the world, the English customs officials took a good look at some of the articles in her baggage. Howard interceded and straightened out the difficulty, and out of this strange meeting came the romance.

Nearly 9000 Pieces New White China to Paint
Fall Opening Sale

Some seven months ago we opened this department of White China to paint, in connection with our great and growing Art Department.

—From the very moment we made the opening announcement, the department was a hit.

—Principally because of the great variety of white china assembled, because of the extreme low prices that prevailed, and because of the splendid instructor in charge of the China Painting lessons.

—This fall season is to see china painting more popular than ever, and now, with Christmas but three months away, hundreds of women are going to take up the work—and why not, when such dainty Christmas gifts may be made at such a small cost, and besides, what a charming accomplishment to be able to do this artistic work.

Some of the New China Consists of Sugar and creamers, vases, punch bowls, jardiniere, bonbons, powder box, hair receivers, ash trays, pin trays, nut bowls, chop dishes, dragon handled stoves, all sizes of plates in Louis, scalloped edge and Toledo patterns.

CASTORIA

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Mansur Drug Co., of St. Paul, Minn., says: "We are not in the habit of recommending proprietary medicines, but we never hesitate to give a good word for Castoria. It is a medical success."

Hegeman & Co., of New York City, N. Y., say: "We can say for Castoria that it is one of the best selling preparations in our store. That is conclusive evidence that it is satisfactory to the users."

Myers-Dillon Drug Co., of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is one of the best sellers we have. We cheerfully recommend it to our customers voluntarily at all times, and will testify to its merits at any and all times."

Weber Drug Co., of Indianapolis, Ind., says: "Fletcher's Castoria, an article for which there is no substitute. It is undoubtedly one of the most popular articles on the market to-day and our customers are numbered by the hundreds."

Farrish & Bailey Pharmacy, of Los Angeles, Cal., says: "During a experience of over 30 years in the retail drug business we have never found a proprietary remedy that has had such a large sale or given us universal satisfaction as your Castoria."

Thea. Metcalf Co., of Boston, Mass., says: "We have handled Fletcher's Castoria for years and consider it one of the best preparations made. Our sales are continually increasing and everyone of our customers has nothing but praise for Fletcher's Castoria."

W. H. Chapman, of Montreal, Que., says: "I have sold Fletcher's Castoria for many years and have yet to hear of one word other than praise for its virtues. I look upon your preparation as one of the few so called patent medicines having merit and unhesitatingly recommend it as a household remedy."

"AT POPULAR PRICES."
Luna Park Management Prepares Free Barbecue and Bull-Dodging Expedition.
Manager Snow of Luna Park has issued a blanket invitation for a free barbecue, Sunday, to begin at noon and to last until the last morsel of food has been eaten. He expects at least 20,000 persons and has placed orders for 10,000 pounds of meat, 15,000 loaves of bread, 5000 pounds of potatoes, 500 pounds of coffee, and other provisions in accordance.

The barbecue will be in charge of Joe Romero, who served the big barbecue given on the Adolphus Bush estate at Pasadena to the physicians, when they were in convention here last July.
In the afternoon and again in the evening, Senor Enrico Robles and a company of sixteen, four of whom are well-known matadors, will give a bull-dodging exhibition. Senor Robles is fearless and an expert in escaping the rushes of the ferocious animals. He will pose in the center of the ring while the animals are released from their pens. The theory is that so long as he remains motionless he will not be harmed.

Prior to the exhibition the entire company of sixteen, will sit down to a banquet spread on a table in the center of the bull ring. Two bulls will then be released from the pen. The consequence is problematical.

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER.
The political upheaval in San Francisco, in which the laborite oligarchy went down with a crash, is generally regarded as rationalizing the situation. But politicians, in discussing the effect of the northern election on affairs here yesterday, were divided in their opinions.
One element believes the overwhelming defeat of McCarthy puts Harriman out of consideration and is likely to disintegrate his vote and that Musket will gain largely from the labor union.

The other element, largely the Good Government faction, believes the result will re-emphasize the necessity of electing Alexander at the primary for largely the same reason that he was elected in San Francisco—that is, to prevent the danger of a vice-ridden laborite town.
Both elements agree that Harriman's chances and those of the reds generally are badly hurt.

I think it is impossible to estimate the effect of the San Francisco election at this time, other than to realize that it is a disturbing factor in the socialist-laborite party here. There is no tangible evidence of the effect so far, and probably there will be none until the reds have had a chance to catch their breath. They may stand pat with their forces, but there are sure to be desertions.
It is likely, however, that the reds will stampede in any numbers to Alexander. There is no hope that he would sign a repeal of the anti-picketing ordinance, which is one of the principal pretenses for their party existence. He is not likely to sign any ordinance admitting the soap-box orators to the business district, nor to import their chairman asks; nor is he likely to turn against William J. Burns, as they hope the next Mayor will do. There is no hope of a wide-open town under Alexander, which large numbers of the Harriman element expect.

If the Musket element is sincere in claiming accessions from the red ranks, by the thousands as they say, it must be because there is something in Musket's candidacy that is less repugnant to the unionites than Alexander.
So far Musket has not made his position as between the industrial attitude of the present administration and the demands of the laborites plain. He has said he is the friend of both capital and labor and intends to be fair to both. What "fair" may mean in this platitudinous expression may be learned by the laborite managers before they ally support him.

If the laborites can hope to repeal the anti-picketing ordinance and secure other legislation needed to bolster their falling cause, if they can become a political power as part of an administration, it can only be through some understanding with the candidate they support.
If there is too big a trend of red and laborite votes toward Musket, it will excite some apprehension from the other elements that have been supporting him and it is probably untrue for his friends to eagerly lay claim to the labor vote and vote on it for election. That support cuts two ways and the man who succeeds Musket in getting it must be able to convince the people that no bargain exists or will exist.

Musket must not be judged until he has made his position clear. Platitudes will not clarify. Either the policies of the present administration, so complained of by the reds, are wrong and must be changed (and to be changed the next Mayor must approve the ordinance), or they are right. It will not be fair to judge Musket by any demonstration of the reds, or their deserters, until he has made himself clear on these questions.

PICKLED TIES
GROUND JUICE.
SALTY SLEEPERS NO GOOD AFTER LAKE BATH.
That is, They're No Good for Track-Laying Where Electric Systems Are to Be Installed Because the Mineral in Them Carries Current Into the Earth.

Ten thousand railroad ties that have been "pickled" in the Great Salt Lake for the last three years have just been removed from the Great Salt Lake and are now being transported to Hays, Nev., to be given a trial on the new cut-off of the Southern Pacific company. "Pickling" railroad ties in the Great Salt Lake is by no means a new experiment on the part of the railroad company.

There are "pickled" ties in the old Promontory line of the Central Pacific Railway, which were placed there forty years ago and have not yet decayed, proving the preservative qualities of the salt. The ties that have just been removed from the Great Salt Lake will be subjected to a hard test in the alkali soil of Nevada. The "pickling" process has caused them to become heavily impregnated with salt and they act as grounders, carrying electric current in the block signal service. This fact makes them unfit for use on the main line of the company over which the block signals play a most important part.

The preserving of ties and piling in Great Salt Lake may become an important industry, if the experiments now being worked out prove as successful as former tests.
More Ticket Restrictions.
If the recommendation made by the General Passenger and Ticket Agents' Association in St. Paul is adopted, all excursion tickets will hereafter be endorsed with ink on either the face or back with the name of the agent who issued the ticket and the date of issue. The recommendation was also made that baggage valuation be limited to $100 for an adult and $50 for a child, unless the purchaser declares a higher valuation and pays excess valuation charges.

Simplify Time Card.
General Passenger Agent Batters of the Southern Pacific has rearranged the local time card of the Southern Pacific. On separate pages are recorded all of the trains between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, between Los Angeles and San Francisco by way of the Coast line, from Los Angeles to Chatsworth and Mojave, and from Los Angeles to Santa Fe. The new arrangement greatly simplifies the former card.

Switching Charges Absorbed.
Announcement has been made by the Santa Fe that the company will absorb the switching charges from its Oakland terminal to the end of the long wharf at Oakland, where connection can be made with the boats of the American-Hawaiian Steamship company. Shippers from the south and the San Joaquin Valley will therefore have the privilege of routing their goods through the Santa Fe to the coast line at the same cost.

Looking Over Figures.
F. P. Ferguson and J. P. Loeb, representing the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles, are in San Francisco for the purpose of going over the figures recently filed by the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads in the San Joaquin Valley rate case. The figures show the physical valuation of the Southern Pacific estimate is $120,000,000 for 487 miles, or about $246,000 a mile.

Pays to Advertise.
About a month ago The Times announced that J. J. Byrne, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe, was anxious to find an appropriate name for the new through passenger trains that are to be put on between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Since then thousands of suggestions have been received at the meeting of the coast lines in Los Angeles, and the end is not yet.

New Bridge in Use.
The Los Angeles Railway Corporation began using both its tracks across the new Buena Vista bridge yesterday. Until yesterday only the south-bound track had been in use. Beginning October 10 the company will operate all of the cars now using the Downey and Norwalk Broadway bridges over the new bridge.

Will Build New Line.
The Los Angeles Railway Corporation has announced plans for the immediate construction of a new line extending two and a half miles north from First and Gage streets, on Boyle Heights, to Eastlake Park. The new line will cost $10,000,000, and will be built along a private right-of-way, crossing the 21 Monte road on an elevated structure.

Mr. J. M.: If you are bothered with a "terrible" itching scalp, accompanied by much dandruff, there is nothing to be done but to wash the scalp with plain yellow soap, which can be obtained at any well-stocked drugstore. It is a simple remedy, but it is applied to the hair and scalp, and then rinsed out with water. It is said to be a superior hair restorer, and cures dandruff and itching after each wash. As a cathartic take two teaspoonsful at night. This formula is much used in our large hospitals.

Margaret: If your height is 5 ft. 4 in. and your weight only 105 pounds then you are a "skinny" girl. You need a "weight-gainer" or "meat-maker" to increase your weight. It is a simple remedy, but it is applied to the hair and scalp, and then rinsed out with water. It is said to be a superior hair restorer, and cures dandruff and itching after each wash. As a cathartic take two teaspoonsful at night. This formula is much used in our large hospitals.

Stuart, Va.—"There has been," says Mrs. Helen "and never will be, a me compare with Cardui. I for years, and would often smother to death. I patched me up for a while then I would get worse. Finally my husband was to try Cardui, so he bought a bottle, and I tried it. It more good than all the other medicines I had taken. I induced many of my friends Cardui, and they all say they been benefited by its use."

If you are weak and think what it would mean cover as rapidly and sure Mrs. Dalton.

Cardui will certainly you what it has done for and of others, with troubles.

No medicine without could remain in such cases and such a continued inc sales, as Cardui has done, a medicine, as well as a success. Cardui is success Cardui has brought happiness to thousands of women. Why not to you Try it.

Luna Park Management Prepares Free Barbecue and Bull-Dodging Expedition.
Manager Snow of Luna Park has issued a blanket invitation for a free barbecue, Sunday, to begin at noon and to last until the last morsel of food has been eaten. He expects at least 20,000 persons and has placed orders for 10,000 pounds of meat, 15,000 loaves of bread, 5000 pounds of potatoes, 500 pounds of coffee, and other provisions in accordance.

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER.
The political upheaval in San Francisco, in which the laborite oligarchy went down with a crash, is generally regarded as rationalizing the situation. But politicians, in discussing the effect of the northern election on affairs here yesterday, were divided in their opinions.

Switching Charges Absorbed.
Announcement has been made by the Santa Fe that the company will absorb the switching charges from its Oakland terminal to the end of the long wharf at Oakland, where connection can be made with the boats of the American-Hawaiian Steamship company. Shippers from the south and the San Joaquin Valley will therefore have the privilege of routing their goods through the Santa Fe to the coast line at the same cost.

Looking Over Figures.
F. P. Ferguson and J. P. Loeb, representing the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles, are in San Francisco for the purpose of going over the figures recently filed by the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads in the San Joaquin Valley rate case. The figures show the physical valuation of the Southern Pacific estimate is $120,000,000 for 487 miles, or about $246,000 a mile.

Pays to Advertise.
About a month ago The Times announced that J. J. Byrne, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe, was anxious to find an appropriate name for the new through passenger trains that are to be put on between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Since then thousands of suggestions have been received at the meeting of the coast lines in Los Angeles, and the end is not yet.

New Bridge in Use.
The Los Angeles Railway Corporation began using both its tracks across the new Buena Vista bridge yesterday. Until yesterday only the south-bound track had been in use. Beginning October 10 the company will operate all of the cars now using the Downey and Norwalk Broadway bridges over the new bridge.

Will Build New Line.
The Los Angeles Railway Corporation has announced plans for the immediate construction of a new line extending two and a half miles north from First and Gage streets, on Boyle Heights, to Eastlake Park. The new line will cost $10,000,000, and will be built along a private right-of-way, crossing the 21 Monte road on an elevated structure.

NEW BRANCH 2100 AVENUE

The house will stand 475 feet above sea level, and fully 140 feet above the curb line of Sunset boulevard. Every effort will be put forth to make an unusually charming countenance, and a small fortune will be expended on the landscape treatment. During her few years of residence in the city a decade ago, the Barons acquired considerable property interests hereabouts. These holdings had practically all been sold off a year ago, the largest recent transfer having been that of the southeast corner of Hill and Second streets to J. Davis and R. C. Gillis late in the year. It is understood that the

The Public Service: City Hall and Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
Because his application for retirement was not in proper form, a police lieutenant probably will be paid a more advantageous pension than the one asked for.

At the City Hall.
PENSION DELAY HIS ADVANTAGE.
EFFECTIVE APPLICATION MAY PROVE PROFITABLE.

Between Pension Law, if Later Law Will Prove Piece of Good Fortune for Lieutenant—Petition Not Conform to Requirements.

The application of Lieut. Williams to be retired had been in proper form yesterday when presented to the Commission. It might have been filed, and he would have gone on with pensioners under the State law instead of that of the city. Now he comes under the city pension law, which is on its way to change.

The application of three firemen for retirement are pending before the Commission. It came out when the application was read, and waiting for action on the firemen fund ordinance, which has been referred to the Finance Committee for investigation and report.

There is a difference under the law and the city ordinance that will affect the applicant's pension. The police pension plan, Sec. 10, of the city ordinance, says that the pensioner must be a member of the police force for at least five years. The State provision, the applicant's pension would be based on his service as a fireman, which would be a disadvantage.

The application of Williams was approved by the Commission. The pensioner will receive a share of the pension. The application of Williams was approved by the Commission. The pensioner will receive a share of the pension.

passed just the same, and this was done. The vote of the Board of Public Works was 10-2 in favor of the pension law. It made no difference in the result of last week's annexation election.

City Hall Notes.
The Supply Committee reported in connection with the new fire and burglar-proof vault in the City Treasurer's office at the meeting yesterday afternoon in favor of employing T. M. Brintnall as expert and to design the vault, as otherwise, the committee said, the work would be inspected by the contractor himself, which was not deemed good policy. The Council agreed to the appointment.

A statement gained currency yesterday afternoon that Gen. Chaffee will resign from the Board of Public Works at once. His term will expire on January 1. The story was denied by Gen. Chaffee and by the Mayor. Gen. and Mrs. Chaffee have been talking of visiting Europe, and he thought this had given rise to the report.

The Police Commission is in no hurry to appoint the member of the moving picture censorship committee to which it is entitled. The appointment was again postponed yesterday for a week.

The Chief of Police's appointments were approved by the Police Commission yesterday as follows: Lieut. Murray to be captain, effective October 1; William L. Spennan, emergency lieutenant; Herbert E. Brown, department accountant.

FAMILY MYSTERY
END NOT IN VIEW.
ATTORNEYS ASKED WOMAN WAS NOT SISTER, AS THOUGHT.

Stock of Irish Heirs Boosted by This Contention, Their Counsel Tells Court—Fidelity Fight With Munster Down to Contest of Examination—Rival Claimants.

"If the Costa-Langley claims to the estate of Matilda Walden are recognized," declared Attorney Charles Casati Davis yesterday, "it will place in the hands of the Irish heirs of John Wilson a club that will eventually win the latter the money at stake."

Attorney Davis's deduction during his argument in Probate Court for his client of the claimant's tale, gave the new colorful battle for the estate of the late John Wilson, who died in 1912, a new twist.

It was based on the allegation by the attorneys for the Costa and Langley families that Matilda Walden was not the sister of John Wilson, as long believed, but a daughter of his. The Costa family, who claim to be the heirs of John Wilson, are now in a position to win the money at stake.

partly in the custody of Helinda Ball, the tragedy Miss Ball, who lives with a sister of Mrs. Pillsbury.

The court was informed that since her brother in Santa Monica, has been caring for the children, two boys and a girl, at the Pillsbury home in Hollywood.

"I want to take them to San Francisco to my home," said the doctor's brother.

"They appear to be receiving the best of care and attention where they are, so I see no reason for a change at present," Judge Rives replied.

Arthur Pillsbury said that he would leave last night for San Francisco. He would not state positively whether or not he really intended to drop out of the contest over his brother's estate.

The estate is estimated to be worth $100,000 to $150,000, mostly insurance. Neither the physician nor his wife left a will.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.
Judge McCormick yesterday discharged from custody Charles Thompson following the recanting by Helen E. Roberts of a serious charge against the defendant, whom she sought to marry. The court was notified that the girl had recanted her accusations in an affidavit filed with the District Attorney's office.

a dreamer. He possessed in large measure the riches of tender sentiment, fine sensibilities and poetic fancy. He was a lover of home and music. He found his chief happiness himself along the flowery pathways of peace. In his autobiography, "Elysian Echoes," published a few years ago one may find the soul of the man—his sentiments, his philosophy of life, his conviction of duty, his patriotism and loyalty, his hopes and longings, his aspirations, his dreams; of the simple life he wrote:

In sunshine and in shade we rest,
Breathing from nature and her joys,
Serene in thought we live our best.

Abjuring man and all his toys,
Then we journey nothing daunted
Towards that bourne which has no strife.

Calm and restful, nothing wanted,
We live today our simple life."
His admiration and love of the West is shown in the following lines: "Now England has her beatitudes,
On rugged rock-bound coast
The brave and strong their duties
And virtues they may boast.

But give me the sunny West,
Our dreamland and our home,
The fairest and the best,
For me, it's shores to roam."

His prompt and energetic way of doing business and his own advice found in these words: "Strike now while the iron's hot.
Be your motto, as it may,
Do it now or do it not,
Or be thought of no way.
Strike while the iron's hot."

His cheerful way of going forward was expressed in this: "March on, whatever may betide,
On life's highway; let others see
The thoughtless, the smiling face
Uplifting all, their friend, their guide.
March on."

His writings breathe a spirit of religious devotion and a hope of immortality.

"Church bells are to us as the voice
Of our God,
Guiding our footsteps in paths of peace and love.
The bells of life are not in gloom, 'neath
sad,
But joyous hope divine beckoning
from above."

"Something doing is something daring
for the right,
Life's tide ebbs without regret in striving for the noble, using all our might,
Hope hears the rustling of a wing
over there."

And now he seems to bid the world adieu with the following pathetic words: "And now we bid a last farewell
To mourning frier is and earthly strife.
Time's clock has struck our parting
knell,
That sounds for us another life—
"Farewell."

A detailed black and white illustration of a large, multi-story building, likely a hotel or office building. The building features a prominent corner entrance with a small canopy. The facade is covered in numerous windows, and the roofline is flat with a decorative cornice. The illustration is in a classic, slightly stylized architectural drawing style.

Open for business in new location Thursday morning, the 28th.

Hours From 7 A. M. to 12 Midnight

The new location gives us much larger quarters, with every comfort and convenience for our patrons. For some time the growth of the bank has demanded more room, and we consider the new location splendidly suited to the needs of the bank and its depositors.

It will be with great pleasure that we welcome both our old patrons and the many new ones, whom we anticipate will find need of a bank which is at their service night and day.

—the City's Most Important Exhibit of Fabrics for Men's Wear

THIS great tailoring emporium is Fashion's choice for the expression of her latest modes. For this week we announce our formal Fall opening—marking, as it always does, the beginning of the new season.

In this display we feature the largest line of imported fabrics ever shown in Los Angeles. The great mills of England, Ireland and Scotland have sent us their choicest products. If you want exclusiveness in fabric and pattern for this season's suit, you must come to Eisner's—from that there is no appeal—we want every man in Los Angeles who cares for the best in tailoring to visit us today—to be correctly informed regarding the newest styles.

UNANSWERED.
A young attorney of this city was taken into a street car and died a few days afterward. What caused the fatal result to which the persons of individuality submit at a time when the courts are at the prime of their usefulness in almost perfect tone? The question is unanswered. What caused the fatal result to which the persons of individuality submit at a time when the courts are at the prime of their usefulness in almost perfect tone?

UTRAGEOUS AMENDMENTS.
Of all the outrageous, corruption-breeding measures ever presented for endorsement to an intelligent people, Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 4 (No. 16 on the ballot) and Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 47 (No. 13 on the ballot) are among the worst. Other proposed constitutional amendments may be foolish, but these are crimes.

THE COMMISSIONERS.
These five commissioners are to enjoy immunities not to be accorded to any other officer, executive, legislative or judicial. They are not to be subject to the recall. If the recall amendment shall be adopted, they cannot be removed from office except for dereliction of duty, or corruption, or incompetency, and then only by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to each house of the Legislature.

THE COMMISSIONER.
The commissioner is, in his domain, a judge bound by no code of practice except such as he may prescribe and which he may change at his pleasure. From his decisions there is no appeal, and he can send to jail for contempt anyone who ventures to disobey his orders. He is a grand jury with unlimited powers of investigation. He is the prosecuting attorney, the judge, the jury and the sheriff of his own court.

WHAT A PSYCHOPATHIC WARD SHOULD BE.
The city of Los Angeles is to be congratulated on the fact that an up-to-date psychopathic ward is to be added to the County Hospital, which with this addition will become one of the most complete general hospitals in the country. The completion of the psychopathic ward will mark a long advance in the treatment of the insane. Hereafter they are to be treated as patients, under the care of a medical institution, rather than as criminals in the hands of the law.

THE CAUSES AND THE PREVENTION OF INSANITY.
The causes and the prevention of insanity are now being made the subject of life study by many trained scientists. The possibilities in this direction are just beginning to be appreciated. There is now on foot a movement to begin a campaign for the prevention of insanity along similar lines to the energetic endeavor to prevent tuberculosis, which has accomplished such remarkable results. The first step is the education of the general public as to the dangers of mental disturbance and the best methods of prevention.

RIDING ASTIDE.
The young equestriennes of Philadelphia have a just grievance against the committee of the Bryn Mawr horse show for ruling out cross-saddle riding for women from their main event. Twenty years ago such a ruling would have been considered quite proper, even by the avowed opponents of Mrs. Grundy.

WHAT IS AN UNQUALIFIED OPINION?
BY TOM FITCH.
If a juror has formed or expressed an unqualified opinion as to the guilt or innocence of a party accused of crime, or as to the merits of a civil case, he is disqualified. This disqualification is not merely statutory. In a criminal case it rests upon the constitutional right of the defendant to be tried by an unprejudiced jury, and if, as has sometimes happened, a juror when examined answers that he has never formed or expressed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant, and after the conviction of the accused it can be proven that the juror, before he was summoned, stated to one or more persons that he "believed that the defendant was guilty and ought to be hung," the court will set aside the verdict of the jury of which that man was a member and grant a new trial.

brought into prominence as Juanita Kenton, is sorely in need of a new role. Having used the great "Easiest Way" until it is fairly threadbare, and resembles—only as far as she is concerned, however—a magnificent opera coat ending its days traveling in and out of a hall bedroom.

Another possibility is Miss Barri-cale herself. Mr. Tully wrote the play, he says, for the use of the little Beland Theatre, and the "New York gentleman of that name, who is always astr for new talent, might well concentrate his battery of spotlights and the typewriter volleys of his phalanx of press agents upon her genius.

The Orpheum next week promises for its headline act "Cheyenne Days," an epitome of the life of the old cattle days in the West. Introduced are the rodeo, the roundup, riata throwing, noosing and lassoing, riding in fancy and trick fashion, bronco busting, and the like. The troupe is sent out by Gus Hornbrook, originator of the Frontier Days show at Cheyenne, and in it are charming Lucile Mitchell, daughter of the noted Zach, and protégé of Col. Roosevelt; Art Borden, champion roper and rider of Wyoming; Otto Klein, only man to ride Wampus, the outlaw bronco, and a number of others.

The Armstrong company will go in to its farewell work at the Lagoon next Sunday, when Ed Armstrong will offer for the first time his revue, "The Fashion Show." As may easily be guessed, this will deal with the fashions not shown in the recent display, and some startling novelties, especially among the garb for baby dolls, will be on view.

The Kaufman Troupe of women cyclists, a sextette of dainty and daring young women, who, brilliantly costumed, offer an exhibition of wheelmanship, and the "King of Newboys" Noodles Pagan, will be

One Year's Dividends
$597,640.54

The Los Angeles Investment Company paid its 8600 stockholders dividends totalling more than half a million dollars, in spot cash during the past year. For each quarter the dividends were $133,101.64, $144,559.45, $154,463.68 and $165,515.77. Most of the profits were made on real estate and interest, ninety-eight per cent of the total coming from these sources. Building profits furnished two per cent of the total.

99 Per Cent of the Stock is Sold

The Los Angeles Investment Company is capitalized for 2,500,000 shares. Of this more than ninety-nine per cent has been sold. There is no promotion stock, no stock is sold at a discount and none is traded to its officers or to any one else for real estate or property of any description. There are no profits which are not shared by every stockholder. The Company has never and does not now maintain "agents" or "agencies" either in Los Angeles—or elsewhere. It pays no commissions for the sale of its stock, consequently every penny of every investment goes into exactly the same channels—to earn real estate and interest profits. No part of the money received from the sale of stock goes toward the upkeep of an "agent" or "agency." For the stockholders, this is a most vital point to watch. Twenty-five hundred acres of choice subdivision land, in or adjacent to Los Angeles, hundreds of mortgages, secured loans, homes, business blocks and stocks and bonds back the stock issue.

This Company's Money Back Policy

No investor in this Company has ever failed to have returned to him on demand his investment in full without questioning or argument: This is a record of nearly sixteen years.

During the panic of 1907 every stockholder of the Los Angeles Investment Company, who wished it, had returned to him in spot cash all of his investment. The Guarantee Fund of more than $85,000, held and managed by the Globe Savings Bank, has for its sole object the protection of small stockholders from loss. Its purpose is to give you back your money on demand. It is possible for the Fund to return all of an investor's money solely because the Company receives it all to start with, none of it being diverted to the pockets of "agents" as "commissions."

There is nothing evasive in this guarantee. It is not entangling. It does not undertake to try to sell your stock to some one else. The money is there, if you want your money back—ask for it.

BOOM FOR SMALL BOATS

Warren Wood Advo Tiny Craft for Race

"Bug-Boat" Design Best for Amateurs.

Dory Trials in Past Not a Success.

Warren D. Wood, vice-com of the South Coast Yacht Club, is heading a movement for a small boat race to be held this fall. The idea is to promote the use of boats of not over fifteen feet in length, the cost of which is limited to a comparatively small amount.

Wood is of the opinion that this is a big chance for such a venture, as the large boats are not a new one. Wood proposes to add a new phase to it by limiting the amount of cash which may be put on the list. The aim of the motion is to popularize the sport and to add to the membership club.

The type of boat which is chosen for use in the races has been settled upon, but it is that it will be of the "bug-boat" type. The "bug-boat" is a round-bottomed affair, without center-board, the canvas of which is balanced by a heavy iron attached to the bottom. In the opinion of the plan Wood said:

WILL BOOST SPORT.

"The South Coast Yacht Club has decided that something should be done to popularize the sport of yachting. I believe that there are a large number of people who can be introduced through races between boats which will cost but a small amount, say to $100. The average novice in yachting does not feel like making a large investment in anything which he knows but little about, and for this reason I believe that races of boats of the equipment limited will add greatly to the membership club."

The dory races which were held before last were not very successful, and we will have another type of boat for small boat races. A round-bottomed "bug-boat" seems to come nearest what we need in local waters. They are much safer than the dories and are no more expensive. If the race goes through, it is probable that the dimensions of the hulls will be fixed but the rig left to the taste of the owner.

FEW REAL DORIES IN SO.

"The dory is a dangerous boat for anyone who is not thoroughly acquainted with its peculiarities. A novice is handling it, the favorite 'stunt' is to turn the boat in the hands of an expert. It is no safer than a boat."

"Those of the Gloucester type, admittedly the safest of all small boats, it is said that the way to ride out a gale is little short of a miracle. There are two different ways of the use of dories. The first of these is the dory, but a couple of real ones in the water."

There are any number of here which have been built by who thought that they could be on the Gloucester type, but they of them have been used for years. The dory is a type of boat which has been modeled and modeled years of evolution, and any attempt at radical change in it is a failure before the first month. The dory can not be less than ten feet in length and its proportion not be varied. "The second of the way of dory races is the men we want to attract into the are not sufficiently adept in handling to have any chance competing with experts, and it might not be the safest imaginable for an inexperienced to try manage one in rough water. While it is of course, the which we talk about most, the thing is the building of the themselves. If we can get a frequent boat building shop listen to the men talk while the is being built. I feel sure that it contract some of their enthusiasm then we will have new yachts in the field."

Bronson failed to wipe out of his former defeat at the hands of Tommy Howell in Philadelphia in their ten-round bout. FANS NERVOUS OVER KILBANE-CONLEY BOUT.

Kilbane a Bit the More Favored of the Two, Concensus of Opinion Being That He Can Go Limit and Win on Points—Rivers Back in Town ready to Fight the Winner.

THE Rialto fans are figuring forty ways at the present writing on the possible outcome of the Kilbane-Conley fight, which will be settled Saturday afternoon in the Vernon Arena.

This fight is probably the last one before Attell will be called out of his shell to defend his title for the featherweight belt, unless Joe Rivers can horn his way into the center of the boxing line and get hooked up with Conley, or Kilbane, if the latter is the winner Saturday.

Harry Gilmore has gone on record with the statement that he will let Joe have a date with Conley, if Rivers will decide right after the fight, Saturday.

Kilbane is the favorite now, as most of the fans think he will be able to stay from Conley, and while doing it inflict enough punishment to win the fight. Kilbane has never lost to a second-rater, and in his some forty-five odd fights has met and defeated all the best men in the division with the exception of Attell.

On the other hand, Conley lost to Joe Coster and Johnny Coulon. The first-named fighter is a rank second-class man, as his showing made here against Rivers would indicate; Coulon is a tough boy, but the fact that he handled Conley in a package counts against Kilbane in the coming fight on Vernon way.

Kilbane is not credited with a knockout punch, as a regular thing, but that is because fans do not look close enough into his style of fighting.

Because he stayed away from Kilbane for twenty rounds, and before that went twenty rounds with Rivers without wading in, is held against him. The fact that he laid Joe Rivers on the mat dead to the world is considered a lucky matter, but if this knockout is analyzed it shows that Johnny turned the trick with ease and with a definite method.

He waited for his opening, then crossed his right hand to the jaw of staggering Rivers. Now, instead of going wild, he carefully found the jaw again, and with Joe reeling, planted one in the pit of the stomach, making him drop his guard; then the

NIKRENT TO DRIVE MARMON IN SANTA MONICA RACE.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

JOE NIKRENT will drive a Marmon racing car on the day of the big road battle at Santa Monica, Saturday, October 14. This was settled yesterday when he signed with the Marmon people to take charge of one of the handsome racing machines which will form a part of the stable which Ray Harroun will bring to the Coast. Joe has figured in many big events and this year will be mounted on a speedster that should bring home the money.

This adds a spice to the race that could not have been given to the big track battle without a local hero at the wheel of one of the big speedsters. While Harroun will pilot the Marmon Wasp, Nikrent will be with him as one of his side partners and the other drivers, well, one of them will be Joe Dawson, according to the present plans and if there is no change this speed manipulator will be here with a bid which should be strong enough for him to win the big event.

Frank cars, stripped racers, battle-scarred veterans which have figured in some of the biggest events in this country, will be started over the Santa Monica road race course Saturday.

TIGERS LEAP FORWARD BY BEATING ANGELS.

Vernon, 5; Los Angeles, 1.

The big crowd of fans that turned out yesterday to see the struggle between the two local teams saw Castleton of the Tigers in good form, and that means that any team that goes against him has a hard time making runs. The Angels did yesterday, for they got but one in nine innings, and the only two hits they got in one inning did not count for a run.

Toser tried his hand for the Angels, and, while he was hit freely, there was some luck attached to two of the Tiger runs, and yet the Tigers hit hard enough to win, or rather often enough. They found Toser for ten hits, and some of these were placed just right to make runs.

However, if Hoop had not been too anxious to make an out at first base and fumbled the ball in his attempt, the Angels would have been shut out, for his boot in the fifth allowed the Angels to score their only run. It was not a serious error at that, for after that time the locals had no chance to score, and before then they had but one opportunity.

In the second with one out, Hettmuller doubled to right and stole third, but died there, while in the fourth Metzger doubled to left, ran

VERNON RITCHER GETS MARRIED.

Johnny Raleigh, pitcher of the Vernon ball team was married, Tuesday evening to Miss Ethel Davis of this city, according to the best information that Manager Hap Hogan has.

The players have known for some time that Raleigh was thinking of married life. What proved to them that he was married was the receipt yesterday at the Vernon Clubhouse of a box of cigars with compliments of Mr. and Mrs. John Raleigh. Hogan stated last night that he did not know where or by whom Raleigh had been married, but that he would be out at the grounds today. The best wishes of all the baseball fans will be extended to him.

KNITS IT

Not only is a Knit-it the proper "neck cap" for Autumn but it has several distinct advantages—

- a natter, natter knot.
- never fizzes, wrinkles, becomes shabby or shows pinholes.
- will stand twice the yanking of an ordinary cravat.

is the diya section, best-loved of the house, and want-to-be of the house.

Not caring to have such a celebrity in their country, the Swiss ordered him to leave. Obeying, he sailed for New York in 1845.

At the outbreak of the Civil War he organized the Eighth Regiment in New York City, was made colonel and accompanied it to Washington.

standard of discipline in the regiment was high, its drill as nearly perfect as any in Gen. McDowell's army.

Blenker at Bull Run.

The battle of Bull Run proved the worth of Blenker and his men. Although at the time only a colonel, Blenker was given the command of the First Brigade of Miller's division.

He had under him the Eighth New York, commanded by Col. Adolph von Steinwehr, who was of a family of soldiers, and himself a veteran of the Mexican War; the Thirty-ninth New York, known as the Garibaldi guards, commanded by Col. Fred G. D'Ussay; and the Twenty-seventh Pennsylvania Regiment, commanded by Col. Max Blumstein.

The story of the historic retreat of the Union troops has been told in this series, but the work of Gen. Blenker's men was but briefly touched upon.

In the face of the battle they were obliged to remain inactive, guarding the rear of Gen. McDowell's army and the base at Centerville. The day was a terrible ordeal for the men. There in front the great conflict was raging, yet they were not allowed to take part in it. Their duty was to watch and wait.

With feverish impatience they stood there on the sloping ground to the east of Centerville, watching for the messengers who would bring word of victory or defeat. Yet when that word did come and with it great numbers of disorganized and panic-stricken troops, they were once more commanded to hold their posts, inactive.

But they had their work to do. On both flanks of the fleeing Union army the Confederate cavalrymen hovered. The few companies of Federal cavalry, despite their gallantry, were matched against great numbers of Confederate stragglers were threatened with death or capture.

The German brigade came to the rescue. Orders to advance on the Centerville road were received. "It was nearly choked up by the retreating baggage wagons of several divisions," Blenker wrote in his official report, and by vast numbers of stragglers belonging to various regiments. Nevertheless owing to the coolness of commanding officers and the good discipline of the men, the passage through the village was successfully executed. The further advance was made with the utmost precision, and I was thus enabled to take a position which would prevent the advance of the enemy and protect the retreat of the army."

One officer reported the joy of the troops in seeing Blenker's "splendid brigade, like a stone wall, across the line of retreat."

Brushes with Confederate cavalry were frequent. Of one of Col. Blenker wrote: "Several squadrons of the enemy's cavalry advanced along the road and appeared before the outposts. They were challenged with 'Who comes there?' and, remaining without an answer, I being present at the outpost, called: 'Union forever.' Whereupon the officer of the enemy's cavalry commanded: 'En avant; en avant. Knock him down.' Now the skirmishers fired and the enemy turned and fled, leaving several dead and wounded on the spot." In this action several Union prisoners made their escape and joined their comrades.

When the shattered remains of the army had passed on the camp on the Potomac, Gen. Blenker was ordered to retire. Over and over again he begged permission to retain his ground or even to advance, but in vain. The German brigade had done fully to the messenger who carried the order, "go bring me word to go on, sir!"

Camp Life.

The German regiments went into camp undisciplined. The veterans in the ranks knew well that a single battle did not make a war. They foresaw the great engagements that were to come in the ensuing years, and were content to wait the development of the army.

Nearly all the short-time men recruited and the personnel of the brigade in the army of the Potomac under McClellan was almost identical with that of the brigade while under McDowell at Bull Run.

One important change was made, however, for Blenker was appointed brigadier-general, in reward for his service at Bull Run.

It was in his brigade that army life was to be seen at its best in the fall of 1861.

In his troops, mainly Germans, was a liberal sprinkling of representatives from nearly every country of Europe and North America. Many of the men were adventurers—professional soldiers who considered a "spirited engagement" a mere tea party, a skirmish a thing not worthy of comment.

A newspaper account of the period sheds light on one of the innovations introduced by Gen. Blenker. It reads: "At sunset every evening officers from six or eight regiments, some 200 in number, assembled on the open ground in front of Gen. Blenker's headquarters, forming three sides of a hollow square."

"The band of the Eighth New York Volunteers is always in attendance, to the music of which they arrange themselves."

"The general, with his staff, advances to the center to meet them, receives the principal officers, inquires into the condition of the various regiments, acquaints himself with the minutest movements of the day and dismisses them."

"The assemblage then breaks into groups, the greater functionaries salute the lesser, all sorts of possible plans and movements are discussed while the band plays for half an hour; after which the ground is cleared and the visitors return to their various camps."

Gen. McClellan in his memoirs tells an interesting story of life in the camp. "The most entertaining of my duties," he wrote, "were those which sometimes led me to Blenker's camp, whether Franklin was always glad to accompany me to see the 'circus' or 'opera,' as he usually called the performance. As soon as we were sighted, Blenker would have the officers call down to assemble his polyglot collection with their uniforms as varied and brilliant as the colors of the rainbow."

"Wrapped in his scarlet-lined cloak, his group of officers ranged around him, he would receive us with the most formal and polished courtesy. Being a very handsome and soldierly-looking man himself, and there being many equally so among his surroundings, the tableau was always very effective, and presented a striking contrast to the matter-of-fact way in which things were managed in the other divisions."

"In the little minutes he would shoot 'Ordinance numero eins' (ordinance number one), whereupon champagne would be brought in great profusion, the hands would play, sometimes being heard to sing."

The War, Day by Day, Fifty Years Ago.

CXLVII.

September 28, 1861—Brig.-Gen. Louis Blenker's Division of Germans Formed a Valued and Picturesque Unit of the Army of the Potomac—How the Germans Rallied to the Defense of the Flag—Scenes in Their Camps.

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

FIFTY years ago today the German brigade, commanded by Brig.-Gen. Louis Blenker, gave a touch of picturesque and color to the otherwise uniform character of the vast Army of the Potomac that lay encamped around Washington.

To the volunteer the months of inactivity that passed while Gen. McClellan was shaping the unorganized troops of the North into a great fighting machine, dragged heavily. There were the same drills, the same meals, the same exacting guard duties, the same companions week in and week out—irksome enough to men eager to wipe out the memory of Bull Run.

These untrained soldiers lacked the experience which might have given them a hundred different ways of relieving the sameness of each day's life.

In Gen. Blenker's German brigade things were different. The various regiments were not only officered by veterans, but they counted hundreds of them in their ranks. All the dash, the wild bravery and chivalry of past centuries had given a heritage to their encampment, and camp-fire frolics were seen there at their best.

Gen. Louis Blenker—Ludwig, his men called him—was himself a veteran soldier. Born in Worms, Hesse-Darmstadt, in 1812, he early enlisted in the famous Bavarian legion that was raised to accompany Prince Otto, recently elected King of the Hellenic Assembly of Greece, to that country. He left its ranks a lieutenant and returned to Germany, where he was made a colonel of militia and later became one of the leaders in the revolution of 1848.

As commander of the Freitharen (Free Corps) he successfully assaulted and captured the city of Ludwigshafen and occupied the city of Worms. Being unsuccessful in his attempt to capture Landau, and learning soon after of the downfall of the revolutionary cause in other parts of the country, he made his way to Switzerland.

Not caring to have such a celebrity in their country, the Swiss ordered him to leave. Obeying, he sailed for New York in 1845.

At the outbreak of the Civil War he organized the Eighth Regiment in New York City, was made colonel and accompanied it to Washington.

There in front the great conflict was raging, yet they were not allowed to take part in it. Their duty was to watch and wait.

With feverish impatience they stood there on the sloping ground to the east of Centerville, watching for the messengers who would bring word of victory or defeat. Yet when that word did come and with it great numbers of disorganized and panic-stricken troops, they were once more commanded to hold their posts, inactive.

But they had their work to do. On both flanks of the fleeing Union army the Confederate cavalrymen hovered. The few companies of Federal cavalry, despite their gallantry, were matched against great numbers of Confederate stragglers were threatened with death or capture.

The German brigade came to the rescue. Orders to advance on the Centerville road were received. "It was nearly choked up by the retreating baggage wagons of several divisions," Blenker wrote in his official report, and by vast numbers of stragglers belonging to various regiments. Nevertheless owing to the coolness of commanding officers and the good discipline of the men, the passage through the village was successfully executed. The further advance was made with the utmost precision, and I was thus enabled to take a position which would prevent the advance of the enemy and protect the retreat of the army."

One officer reported the joy of the troops in seeing Blenker's "splendid brigade, like a stone wall, across the line of retreat."

Brushes with Confederate cavalry were frequent. Of one of Col. Blenker wrote: "Several squadrons of the enemy's cavalry advanced along the road and appeared before the outposts. They were challenged with 'Who comes there?' and, remaining without an answer, I being present at the outpost, called: 'Union forever.' Whereupon the officer of the enemy's cavalry commanded: 'En avant; en avant. Knock him down.' Now the skirmishers fired and the enemy turned and fled, leaving several dead and wounded on the spot." In this action several Union prisoners made their escape and joined their comrades.

When the shattered remains of the army had passed on the camp on the Potomac, Gen. Blenker was ordered to retire. Over and over again he begged permission to retain his ground or even to advance, but in vain. The German brigade had done fully to the messenger who carried the order, "go bring me word to go on, sir!"

Camp Life.

The German regiments went into camp undisciplined. The veterans in the ranks knew well that a single battle did not make a war. They foresaw the great engagements that were to come in the ensuing years, and were content to wait the development of the army.

Nearly all the short-time men recruited and the personnel of the brigade in the army of the Potomac under McClellan was almost identical with that of the brigade while under McDowell at Bull Run.

One important change was made, however, for Blenker was appointed brigadier-general, in reward for his service at Bull Run.

It was in his brigade that army life was to be seen at its best in the fall of 1861.

In his troops, mainly Germans, was a liberal sprinkling of representatives from nearly every country of Europe and North America. Many of the men were adventurers—professional soldiers who considered a "spirited engagement" a mere tea party, a skirmish a thing not worthy of comment.

A newspaper account of the period sheds light on one of the innovations introduced by Gen. Blenker. It reads: "At sunset every evening officers from six or eight regiments, some 200 in number, assembled on the open ground in front of Gen. Blenker's headquarters, forming three sides of a hollow square."

"The band of the Eighth New York Volunteers is always in attendance, to the music of which they arrange themselves."

"The general, with his staff, advances to the center to meet them, receives the principal officers, inquires into the condition of the various regiments, acquaints himself with the minutest movements of the day and dismisses them."

"The assemblage then breaks into groups, the greater functionaries salute the lesser, all sorts of possible plans and movements are discussed while the band plays for half an hour; after which the ground is cleared and the visitors return to their various camps."

Gen. McClellan in his memoirs tells an interesting story of life in the camp. "The most entertaining of my duties," he wrote, "were those which sometimes led me to Blenker's camp, whether Franklin was always glad to accompany me to see the 'circus' or 'opera,' as he usually called the performance. As soon as we were sighted, Blenker would have the officers call down to assemble his polyglot collection with their uniforms as varied and brilliant as the colors of the rainbow."

"Wrapped in his scarlet-lined cloak, his group of officers ranged around him, he would receive us with the most formal and polished courtesy. Being a very handsome and soldierly-looking man himself, and there being many equally so among his surroundings, the tableau was always very effective, and presented a striking contrast to the matter-of-fact way in which things were managed in the other divisions."

"In the little minutes he would shoot 'Ordinance numero eins' (ordinance number one), whereupon champagne would be brought in great profusion, the hands would play, sometimes being heard to sing."

"His division was very peculiar. So far as the pride, pomp and circumstance of glorious war were concerned, it certainly outshone all the others. Their drill and bearing were also excellent, for all of the officers and probably all the men had served in Europe."

"The regiments were all foreign and mostly of Germans; but the most remarkable of all was the Garibaldi Regiment. Its colonel, D'Ussay, a Hungarian, was said to have been a rider in Franco's circus, and terminated his public American career in the Albany penitentiary. His men were from all known and unknown lands, from all possible and impossible armies. Some were from Algeria, men of the 'Foreign Legion,' Zephira, Cosacka, Garibaldi's of the deepest dye, English deserters, Sepoys, Turcos, Croats, Swiss, beer-drinkers from Bavaria, stout men from North Germany, and added McClellan with some exaggeration, "no doubt Chinese, Esquimaux, and detachments from the army of the Grand Duchess of Gerolstein."

"Such a mixture was probably never before seen under any flag, unless, perhaps, in such bands as Holt's Jagers of the 'Thirty Years War' or the free lances of the middle ages."

"I well remember that in returning one night from beyond the picket lines I encountered an outpost of the Garibaldians. In reply to their challenge I tried English, French, Spanish, Italian, German, Indian, a little Russian and Turkish; all in vain, for nothing at my disposal made the slightest impression upon them."

According to William Cowper Prime, a journalist who edited Gen. McClellan's autobiography, this statement was probably exact, for the general was able "to converse freely in most of the languages named, including two dialects of North American Indian, and had a sufficient knowledge of all of them (as well as others) to make him independent of an interpreter."

The adventure-seeking element in the division, which, because of its peculiar characteristics, stood out strongly, was nevertheless numerically weak. The great bulk of the men were simple, liberty-loving German residents of the United States who had rallied to the flag of their adopted country in answer to the call of President Lincoln.

BEAUTY HINT: Care of the teeth, which means, more emphasis than anything else, care of the health and so care of the first for proper brushing. Brush, not across the teeth, but in order to remove any food which has lodged in the teeth. Brush should be carefully brushed after each meal and before going to bed. As to powders or pastes, there are a number of excellent ones on the market, and some which are positively injurious.

the days when you begin to make things snug for winter. You put away all the summery-looking furniture coverings and light rugs, and bring forth the warmer-looking floor coverings. allow the rest upholstery of the big arm chairs to disclose itself and look to it that the drop lights and the table lamps are in readiness for the longer evenings. You bring in a few plants from the garden and prepare to live more in the house than you have done for many months. And, after all, however much we may enjoy the glorious summer—such a long, delightful summer as we have here, too—home is just a little more home in winter when we gather around the reading lamp and toast our toes before the open fire during the evening hours.

Fashion Says.
The bows at the throat multiply. Ruffled veils are very fashionable. "Broom" turbans are ultra modish. The newest fashions are charmingly simple. Sashes and military effects will be strong this fall. White lace veils continue to be extremely popular. Indoor wear favors mohair, tussah, voile, crepe, etc. The pump bow is seen yet at the back of the girdle. Very large buttons and very small ones will both be used. Three things must match your dress—your shoes, bag and hat. Little vests are trimmed with buttons of black or colored velvet. New black patent-leather shoes have snow-white tops of calfskin. Both cream white and dead white are fashionable for evening hats.

ARRAY OF QUALITY THERE.
One Hundred and Fifty Vice-Presidents of Woman Suffrage Clubs Will Be on Stage at Monday Rally.
One hundred and fifty vice-presidents of the different woman suffrage organizations in Southern California will sit upon the stage of the Temple Auditorium Saturday night at a big suffrage rally which the Political Equality League is planning.
The women propose to make it the biggest suffrage meeting of the campaign and have engaged a brass band to put ginger into the occasion. What the brass band cannot do will be left to Dr. Robert J. Burdette, Mrs. Shelby Tolhurst, Miss Helen Todd, Senator Harry Clifford Lett will sing two baritone solos.

the features of the new Sullivan & Considine bill, which will come to the Empress Theater next Monday afternoon.

Next week is announced as the last of the Kinemacolor pictures at the Grand. The exhibit of these views of the coronation in color has been a most acceptable one.

A minstrel show on a new plan is the headliner announced for next week's show at Pantages. The act is billed as "The Spook Minstrels," and its manner of production is veiled in the mystery suggested by the title. A long list of black-face entertainers is included in the cast. The act retains the form of the time-honored minstrel entertainment, with its interludes, end-men, dancers, trombones, soloists, etc., but in its manner of presentation is entirely new. The voices, specialties and dances are said to be unusually good, and in all except duration the show will maintain the best minstrel tradition. Frank is Dent, a juggler of international reputation, is the added attraction. He appears as "The King's Jester," and among his specialties will perform the unusual feat of keeping nine billiard balls in simultaneous motion. Toront and Flor d'Alma bring their trained roosters. This is one of the best-known European successes. The featured company numbers over forty highly-bred game cocks. Bertie Fowler, reputed the only woman doing a real monologue, tells stories and talks songs in just the style that distinguishes monologues for the commedienne. George du Bois, a Seattle society favorite, will make her first appearance here as a violinist. A skilling act by the Taylor sisters gives the twins opportunity for graceful display. A specially reserved picture will make the Pantheoscope interesting, and the orchestra promises popular and classic selections between acts.

The seat sale for the Viennese operetta, "The Spring Maid," will open this morning at the Mason. Works and Loeschner have sent an allegedly fine cast, which has secured the honors with the fascinating little Hungarian, Mizal Hajos, who first created the leading role in the opera in Vienna. Even the "sings" has been overlooked in the general praise, and its vocal powers have been likened to those of the famous choruses carried by the old Bostonians' organization.

On Sunday afternoon the Burbank management will present an attraction of three-fold interest to local playgoers. This will be the first presentation in the West of George M. Cohan's musical play, "The Man Who Owns Broadway," the reappearance of the Burbank stage of that popular young comedian, Henry Stockbridge, and the first appearance of the Burbank's new leading lady, Miss Nana Bryant.

"The Man Who Owns Broadway" is one of the most successful musical plays from the pen of George M. Cohan, and it served as a starring vehicle for the past two seasons for comedian Raymond Hitchcock. Mr. Stockbridge will make his appearance in Hitchcock's original role of the popular matinee idol, "The Man Who Owns Broadway." Miss Bryant will be seen in the part of Sylvia, created by Flora Zabelle.

Max Fleeman, Lolita Robertson and the others of the cast, which will support Mr. Figman, when he appears at the Majestic Theater the week after next in "The Old Curiosity Shop," are now busily engaged in rehearsals on the Majestic stage. Mr. Figman himself is directing the production, and having appeared in the piece many times and with such devoted success, his direction seems to assure a production more than ordinarily worth while.

"Miss Nobody From Starland," a Mort H. Singer musical production, from the Princess Theater, Chicago, will be seen at the Hamburger Ma-

ONCE upon a time on an Autumn day when the leaves were turning from green to red, and red to gold—a man went strolling through the woodland—

—Whistling softly to himself, carefree and happy, he seemed—a lover of the birds and trees and flowers—

—Time sped swiftly, and he wandered far—so that when noon approached and he found himself on the edge of a great clearing, he sat himself down in the shade of a tree—partook of the lunch that he had brought and then fell lazily to sleep—and dream—

—And a Fairy came to him out of Wonderland—with a tale such as he had never heard—the tale of a queen who had disappeared years before—stolen away by a giant ogre—and put in an unknown prison hidden from everyone who went to search. And then the Fairy whispered in his ear how she had come upon the secret—and discovered where the prison lay—and begged him on her knees to go to the succor of her queen——And when he gave her his promise, she told him that the prison—a great shaft of solid granite stood in the center of the very field in which they were—

—And the prison was watched every minute of the night and day by guards who never slept and who had bathed in a wonderful fountain that made them as strong as the winds that bent the sturdy oaks and as invisible as the air itself—

—But the Fairy had been working ceaselessly—she knew no fear or failure, and she told the man how, on one of her journeyings she had come, tired and hungry, into the haunts of the Mystery of the Mountains—to whom she revealed her story, even as she was revealing it to the man himself—and they had taken her aside and whispered in her ear their secret—and the secret was of a spell that would set at naught the power of the Fountains—

—destroy the valor of the guards and send them on a mission leagues and leagues away—

—and when they had given to the Fairy a Magic potion that rested and refreshed and gave to her new life and strength—they sped her on her way—

—and she told the man how she had come back to the prison of her queen and having woven the spell—how the guards had lost their invisibility and vanished on the wings of the hurricane—

—and how she had started on her search for the man—and how glad she was to have found him——and the man rose slowly, rubbed his eyes, turned in the direction of the field and hurried eagerly to his task—

—The Fairy hovered anxiously at hand—and then floated silently away—leaving the man to do his work.

METHODISTS GROWTH.

Mather, to the memory of Mrs. J. A. H. Wilson; G. A. Henry, to the memory of Mrs. Don S. Ford. Bishop Hughes followed with a brief memorial address, referring in general terms to all of those upon whom eulogisms had been pronounced.

CONFERENCE OFFICERS.

The executive staff of the conference is as follows: Secretary, E. J. Inwood; assistants, G. B. Cliff, H. K. Vann, P. G. H. Stevens, C. J. Miller; statistical secretary, O. W. Reinius, who was not prepared to announce his assistants; Treasurer, A. Ray Moore; assistants, J. E. Hall, W. W. Kaiser, M. W. Beckwith, H. Shepard, P. C. Edwards, O. N. Olson, W. C. Loomis; railroad secretary, W. F. Went.

Bishop Hughes is located at the Lankershim Hotel, where daily meetings with the district superintendents will be held, they with the bishop at their head, forming the cabinet. These meetings began promptly at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, those present being Bishop Hughes, Dr. F. M. Larkin, superintendent of the Los Angeles district; Dr. P. D. Mather, superintendent Pasadena district; Dr. Harcourt W. Peck, superintendent Fresno district; Dr. Alfred Inwood, superintendent San Diego district; Dr. S. A. Thomas, superintendent Nevada mission; Dr. Robert S. Fisher, superintendent of the Arizona mission, who would complete the cabinet, did not arrive yesterday.

A statistical session of the conference was held in the afternoon, presided over by Dr. J. B. Green, during which all the pastory in response to roll-call, presented their reports to the statistical secretary for tabulation. At 3 o'clock, Rev. C. W. Tarr preached a sermon in honor of his semi-centennial in the pulpit. He began his work fifty years ago in Indiana, served two years as a chaplain in the Civil War, and came to California in 1871. He was retired as a superintendent in 1900, but seems more vigorous now than at the time of his retirement.

The anniversary of home missions and church extension was celebrated last night when an address was delivered by Dr. Robert Forbes, one of the church extension secretaries.

SUPERINTENDENTS' REPORTS.

The business will begin with the usual session this morning, the first order being the reading of the reports of district superintendents. The afternoon will be devoted to the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, with an address by Rev. E. P. Ryland, and the evening to the foreign missions and temperance. Addresses in the evening will be delivered by Rev. V. M. McCombs and Rev. T. Wilson. Much interest centers on the elections of Friday, when the conference will elect five or six delegates to the General Conference, which meets in Minneapolis in May, next. The day electoral conference will meet simultaneously with the annual conference on Friday morning, and will also elect five or six delegates.

Some curiosity has been excited by the fact that Rev. George A. Hough, a Southern California boy, who has been located in San Francisco for several years, was not assigned to a charge in the northern conference. The fact is, he has accepted a position with a steamship company, and will make two trips around the world, accompanied by Mrs. Hough, preaching on shipboard each Sunday. His many friends will rejoice at the splendid opportunity it opens before him.

A feature on Friday evening will be the meeting of the Veterans of the Union Veterans' Association, in Stanton Post Hall, No. 125 1/2 South Spring street. At the same time, the educational anniversary will be held in the conference church, when addresses will be delivered by Bishop Hughes and Dr. J. A. Gelastinger. On Saturday afternoon at 2:30 there will be a reception to ministers' wives, at the home of Mrs. M. J. Monette, No. 911 Western avenue, from 2:30 to 5 o'clock p.m.

CHURCH NEEDS MEN.

PREACHER SOUNDS WARNING.

A great deal of business was transacted at the meetings yesterday of the Los Angeles Presbytery of the Presbyterian Churches of Southern California, and much more is to be done today, the closing day. About one hundred ministers were in attendance at the South Park Presbyterian Church, Fifty-first and San Pedro streets.

Discussing a report on evangelism, Dr. Glen McWilliams said:

"The great question of the religious work of today is how can we reach our men? If this question is not answered, where will the church be in twenty-five years? The modern man does not care for sermons on the ordinary subjects. Men do not stay away from the churches on account of a disbelief in God. It is because there is such a lack of action in the church itself. The modern commercial man does not want a religion, but if you can get the men to church, the women will follow."

Biggest Piano House in Los Angeles Forced Out by Landlord

EILERS MUSIC HOUSE entire stock of over four hundred pianos, player pianos, music rolls, cabinets, furniture, fixtures, safes, typewriters, carpets, etc., etc., to be closed out at once. No combination of circumstances has ever brought piano prices so low as appear on our price tags.

Everybody is surprised—yes, astonished, that EILERS MUSIC HOUSE is to discontinue its retail store in Los Angeles. A statement of the oily promises on the part of the landlord of fair and proper treatment is not essential. Suffice it to say that matters have culminated in our sending formal notice that we will remove and vacate the said premises.

We have got to sell these pianos, player pianos, at once, even if we have to sell new pianos for $50.00 apiece on terms of $1.00 a week. If you ever expect to own a piano come and see us as soon as you can. We will let you make your own price and terms, BUT YOU MUST ACT QUICKLY. We are going to close out every piano, player piano, grand piano in stock, and to accomplish this we will let you name your own price and terms. Never before since the inception of the piano business in Los Angeles has the purchasing public been offered such truly wonderful standard make pianos as will be included in this great FORCED OUT SALE.

Caution!
Look over the door for the name, EILERS; otherwise you may be decoyed into the wrong store. At present we are unable to secure satisfactory location but until we do we shall confine our efforts to our wholesale business, supplying retail stores in Southern California from our Los Angeles wholesale warehouse. We are going to close our Los Angeles retail store, located at 244 South Broadway, closing it up absolutely until such time as we can get a suitable building and location. Almost any amount, no matter how small, will buy a splendid piano.

La Follette

says:

"In the preparation of this narrative for The American Magazine I have no literary intent whatsoever. I am not writing for the sake of writing, nor for the mere purpose of relating the events of my political life. I have not yet reached the secluded age when a man writes his autobiography for the enjoyment the exercise gives him.

"Every line in this narrative is written for the express purpose of exhibiting the struggle for a more representative government which is going forward in this country, and to cheer the fighters for that cause."

The story of the Insurgent Movement in the guise of an autobiography by Senator La Follette, will open in the for October, now on all news-stands, 15c; $3.00 a year.

The wisdom of the Ages has produced no other remedy to equal

S.S.S. for the BLOOD

There have been many new "blood remedies" placed upon the market since S.S.S. came into existence more than forty years ago. A great many of these were "fads" for a short period, some were introduced as "miraculous wonder workers," while others claimed to have the endorsement of the scientific world. But they failed in the real test and were unable to accomplish results credited to them, so one by one they have passed out of existence.

How different is the record of S.S.S.; this remedy because it possesses merit; it cures blood diseases, a real blood purifier, composed of the most active and potent ingredients. The length of time S.S.S. has been on the market is a fact that more of it is manufactured and sold each year than ever before, and it proves its genuine worth beyond question.

S.S.S. is especially successful in the treatment of blood disease so dreaded by humanity because of its distressing and distressing symptoms. So intense is the virus of blood disease that it quickly permeates the entire blood supply, and causes such symptoms as ulcerated mouth and throat, brown spots on the skin, gradual loss of hair, pains in the limbs, skin eruptions, and many other ailments. S.S.S. has cured many thousands of the most agonizing blood diseases permanently. It goes down into the very marrow of the bones, and moves all germs, virus and poisons, and one who has been afflicted with the use of S.S.S. need not fear any future breaking out of the disease.

No other medicine acts with such satisfactory results as S.S.S. It is made entirely of pure, natural ingredients, of which possesses blood purifying and tonic properties. It takes hold of the disease at once by going down into the circulation, and beginning the necessary work of driving the virus from the blood. S.S.S. is thorough in its action, and traces of the old trouble, and when it cures, the blood is in perfect condition. S.S.S. may be used with absolute safety, and it pleasantly affects the stomach, bowels, or any system. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers because of this fact. If you are afflicted with blood disease, waste valuable time with experimental remedies. Buy S.S.S. Instructive Treatment book and let us prove to you that S.S.S. is the remedy most desired. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores.

Chas. Levy & Son

Men's Tailors and Designers
446-448 South Spring Street

Are you aware, Gentlemen, that you can purchase a Levy Suit at Thirty or Thirty-Five Dollars?

It is a fact that we can give you as much style as you want at these prices—smart, new fabrics in the newest shades—either rough or smooth surface effects.

Tailoring that is positively beyond criticism—every garment made and finished in our careful, painstaking, individual way—the way that has made Levy Clothes famous.

Scores and scores of handsome ideas in Fall woollens to select from at these prices—not a few "special pieces"—but a great big, satisfactory assortment.

Some of them were selected by us especially for the new English Suit produced exclusively by us—and they're mighty handsome.

Look over our Window Displays carefully. Then come in and let us show you hundreds of other patterns that are equally effective.

You'll like our service as well as you like our Clothes—and you'll feel "at home" just as soon as you step inside our doors.

Shall we see you today or tomorrow?

A Few Dollars Will Start You Right

There is no such thing as waiting too long. There is such a thing with a good many of us to wait until we can make an investment of $10, $20 or $50. There is no such a thing as having to wait in the case of COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS. A FEW DOLLARS WILL START YOU RIGHT.

As little as $3 will secure for you stock in COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS, and the way the dollars will begin rolling in when dividends are declared will be a caution, will be a surprise, will be a pleasure. Look at this thing sensibly. Haven't YOU the same right to make money on your $3 as the millionaire has to make on his ten thousand times $3? When it comes right down to that, isn't it more your duty to make money on your $3 than it is for him to make money on his big savings?

If You Are Wise, You Won't Wait

You want to invest your money where your money is safe. It is safe here. You want to invest it where it will bring profits. It will bring profits here. You want to invest where others have invested. After due investigation over 1500 people invested here since this company started less than 6 months ago.

COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS has grown more rapidly than shown by the published records of any similar company ever organized.

COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS is a strictly Co-operative Real Estate and Building concern where ALL profits are assured to ALL shareholders, where the smallest shareholder has as much to say proportionately as the wealthiest, where the millionaires and their employees are interested side by side, where the laboring men and housewives are joining with each other in a truly Co-operative way to bring about just one result—to make each other richer, better, safer, more contented and happier.

STOCK NOW 30c PER SHARE

By the way we are selling stock, buying and selling land, selling and building houses, the price is soon bound to go up. It may go up tomorrow or may go up next week. We will never tell in advance.

516 South Broadway

Orange, Lemon & Walnut Groves

We are admittedly the largest dealers in citrus property and undoubtedly have the largest list to select from. Our listings in this one department alone amount to over one million dollars.

We are prepared to quote you good orchards in size from 5 to 300 acres at prices ranging from $5000 to $280,000.

NO. 1.

$9000
8.44 acres, full bearing orange orchard at Corona. Principally Washington Navela, with a few Bloods and Sweet. Grove in good condition and well located. Ample water stock.

NOTE—This orchard is not a run-down property. Poorly located and subject to frost. On the contrary, my Corona correspondent, who personally investigated the property, informs me that it is in good condition. Located in the fruitless belt. And a most decided bargain. How any man looking for a money-making snap can afford to pass this up is more than I can understand. Expenses back if not as represented.

NO. 2.

13.64-acre walnut orchard in El Monte district. Less than 1/2 mile from Pacific Electric R. R. Southern Pacific R. R. passes on South. And proposed Covina-Long Beach line on East. 6 acres 22-year-old walnuts. 12.64 acres 18-year-old walnuts.

NOTE—As there is a $2500 crop now on trees ready to harvest. The purchaser will really be paying less than $150 per acre. And the asking price of adjacent groves is $1500 per acre. Terms—$10,000 cash, balance mortgage back at 7 per cent.

NO. 3.

$20,000
25-acre Orange and Lemon orchard at Rialto. 15 acres lemons, 10 acres Valencia. 5 acres Seedless Grapefruit. Ciliana's Water Company water. Submerged cement flumes, cement pipe for irrigating.

NOTE—This grove is in very fine condition. Has good crop on trees. Is absolutely frost-free. And will pay big interest on the asking price. Terms—1-3 cash, balance 1 and 2 years at 7 per cent.

NO. 4.

$21,000
19 acres, 9-year-old Valencia. Within 1/2 mile of Altadena car line.

NOTE—This grove produced $4500 last season. Unimproved adjacent land is selling at $1500 per acre. And some is being held for $2000 per acre for subdivision.

NO. 5.

$27,000
13 acres, 11-year-old Washington Navel orange orchard. Located in fashionable Arlington Heights. Near Victoria Avenue, Riverside. Gage canal water—1-1/2 inch to an acre.

NOTE—This is an A-1 grove in an A-1 district. Estimated crop now on trees 7500 boxes. Has just been heavily fertilized. And is in first-class condition in every way. This is the cheapest offering in the Riverside District. And will pay good interest on double the asking price. Terms—1/2 cash, balance 2 and 3 years at 7 per cent.

NO. 6.

$40,000
20-acre full bearing Lemon orchard in fashionable Arlington Heights, Riverside, Cal. One of the finest citrus and suburban home districts in Southern California. Gage Canal water, that is everywhere recognized. As one of the best rights in Southern California.

NOTE—This is an A-1 grove and a good producer. Considering location, etc., this is a very cheap orchard. And will be recognized as such by any man. Looking for an income property of unquestioned merit.

Orange Land is Valuable According to Its Advantages

We have a splendid Tract of Orange Groves where the Advantage are of the Best. These advantages are

Location - Soil - Water

These groves are located at Bloomington, just six miles north of Riverside, in the very heart of the great navel orange producing country. They are on the direct line of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and the electric line to Riverside, giving the best outlets. The soil is a deep, sandy loam, especially adapted to orange culture, proven to be best for that purpose.

There is an ample supply of water and the whole tract is piped with 10-inch cement pipe. There is a flow of one inch for each five acres with eight turn-out stands.

This splendidly equipped tract comprises
130 Acres Divided as Follows
Forty Acres, four years old (bearing.)
Twenty Acres, two years old (very fine.)

Fifty-five Acres, one year old (very promising.)
Five acres in Olives.
Ten acres not planted.

Total 130 Acres

The whole tract is most slightly in location, lying high and with just the right slope to make it desirable. It immediately adjoins the town of Bloomington which is rapidly developing, and only a few minutes ride from the city of Riverside.

It is one chance to a thousand to get a bargain, or growing orange property in just the right location with the finest soil and abundant water. Orange land at a REASONABLE PRICE is becoming very scarce.

We say a reasonable price, because that is what we will take for this tract. Come in and see us. We can quote you a price that will surprise you.
